About the Event

Blooming Communities is a community-centered block party hosted by Child & Family Resources (CFR) kicking off Child Abuse Prevention Month. The event brings together local businesses, nonprofits, media partners, and community resource providers to raise awareness of programs and services that support children and families, while strengthening neighborhood connection and collaboration across Tucson.

Event Highlights

- 250+ attendees expected
- Family activities, food vendors, and community resource booths
- Outdoor event with a street closure directly in front of CFR headquarters
- High visibility and direct engagement with local families, caregivers, and community partners.

What this Tabling Opportunity Offers

This partnership allows organizations to:

- Connect directly with families, caregivers, neighborhood leaders, and community partners
- Increase awareness of your services with a localized, family-centered audience
- Build meaningful community relationships
- Demonstrate support for children and families during a dedicated awareness month
- Be part of a community event designed for interaction, outreach, and long lasting impact.

This is not just a booth; it is a community connection point built for engagement and relationship building.
